Board of Trade Will Have Exhibit At The Edmonton Exhibition

At an unusually well attended meeting of the Board of Trade held last Friday evening, it was unanimously decided to send an exhibit to the forthcoming Edmonton exhibition. The proposed exhibit will comprise chiefly samples of growing grain.

This was the principal feature of the meeting, although there was a protracted discussion between the real estate men of the town as to whether the methods now being employed to sell the land in this district were as effective as they might be, or not.

It was decided to leave the naming of a committee to take charge of the proposed Edmonton exhibit in the hands of the executive.

In the absence of President Morrison and Vice-President Lally, W. E. Mills presided at the meeting.

Secretary King reported that he had got in touch with the Alberta publicity agent at Winnipeg, and had sent him a quantity of advertising literature. Mr. King also stated that it was his intention to establish close relations with all the other publicity agents of the province, and as a result he felt confident that a large number of people would be directed to the Wainwright district. The agents were located at Winnipeg, Toronto, Montreal and at several points in the United States, and had already been the means of sending hundreds of samples across the extreme views of both parties. The Americans up to the present time Wainwright had got none of them, simply because the agents had not been supplied with any literature or information regarding the district.

It was proposed that the Board should take up the question of nominating a ticket for mayor and councillors at the approaching town elections, but the real estate men took up so much time that the matter was never reached.

On the motion of P. B. Ross, it was decided to have a real estate section in connection with the Board of Trade. All the real estate men of the town who are members of the Board of Trade will be members of this section, and the president and secretary of the Board will be ex-officio members.

Among those present at the meeting were the following: W. E. Mills, H. C. King, H. C. Duff, A. E. Mills, W. B.

Crawford, W. E. Washburn, W. J. Atkinson, Dr. Watson, W. Small, P. E. Ross, Bert Cox, J. C. Forsyth, E. C. Logan, R. A. Snyder, T. G. Cook, Dr. McQueen, W. S. Goulet, H. Y. Pawling, Frank Boutell, L. P. Hussey, N. S. Kenney, P. Dewar, Frank Lush, George Richardson, and G. H. Benadry.

At a meeting of the executive of the Board of Trade held on Wednesday evening the following committee were elected to gather samples for the depot showcase, and for the proposed Edmonton exhibit:

H. C. Duff, and R. A. Snyder, who will cover the district east of Wainwright; A. E. Mills and H. G. Morrison, who will go north and west; and C. T. Lally, who will bring in samples from the district south of Wainwright.

It is the intention of the committee to gather the samples for the showcase early next week.

With reference to the proposed exhibit at the Edmonton exhibition the executive decided to send two representatives in charge of the grain samples. These will be named later. It was also decided to send J. H. Gano, the Board's official photographer, in charge of the photo section. Photographs of grain fields, steam plowing, and of the buffalo, will be taken especially for this proposed exhibit.

The booth that will house the exhibit will be designed and painted by Bert Cox.

The executive are satisfied that they can show samples of wheat, oats and flax, equal to anything grown in Alberta this year, and anticipate satisfactory results from both the depot showcase and the Edmonton exhibit.

When W. E. Mills went east the other day he took with him some fine samples of grain grown in this district and left them at the office of Mr. Hyton.

As the publicity campaign that has been given inaugurated is costing a lot of money, it was decided to make a canvass for more new members, and an effort to collect the dues of members who are in arrears. The following gentlemen were appointed a committee to take up this work: H. C. King, R. A. Snyder, C. T. Lally, T. G. Cook and W. J. Musson.

George Richardson Is Definitely In The Field For The Mayoralty

After thinking the matter carefully over, George Richardson has definitely decided to become a candidate for the mayoralty of Wainwright.

In authorizing the Star to announce his candidature, Mr. Richardson said that he had been waited upon by a large number of ratepayers and urged to allow himself to be nominated and after giving the matter his careful consideration had decided to accede to their wishes.

"I am in the field to stay until the last vote is polled," he said.

Mr. Richardson is not without municipal experience, having been a member of the first council of the village of Wainwright.

Mr. Richardson is the only candidate for the mayoralty that is definitely in the field, but from what the Star can learn there is likely to be a contest for the honor. H. Y. Pawling, whose name has been mentioned as a possible candidate, has not yet declared himself, and the past few days there has been some talk of S. J. Covey as a possible candidate. H. C. King is also still thinking it over.

H. C. Duff, Frank Lush, and R. A. Snyder have been mentioned as possible candidates for the council board, in addition to those whose names have already appeared in the Star.

Dropped Dead On The Train

Walter Stimson Succumbs While En Route to Wolf Creek to Work For Foley & Co.—Buried Here.

Stricken suddenly with heart failure, Walter Stimson, a laborer bound from Winnipeg to Wolfe Creek, died on last Sunday's west-bound train, near Yonkers, Saskatchewan. The body was taken off here and placed in charge of Officer Walker of the R. N. W. M. P.

Stimson was one of the 75 laborers that were being brought west from Winnipeg by Logan's employment agency for Foley, Welsh and Stewart west of Wolf Creek. He was, of the law, local farmer going there apparently, in the best of health until about ten minutes before death occurred. The first intimation his travelling companions received that anything was the matter with him was when he made the request to be assisted into one of the upper berths as he was not feeling very well.

His seat mate complied with his request and made the sick man as comfortable as possible. Soon after he was heard gasping for breath and his comrades hurried for a cup of water, returning to find he had passed away.

Dr. Mackinnon, of Edmonton, who was on the train was summoned, but the man was dead before he could reach him.

About fifteen minutes before his death he had been playing cards with some of the other laborers.

Stimson was a strong looking man and had apparently been in good health up to the time he was stricken so suddenly.

As the man's death took place in Saskatchewan there was some doubt as to the proper procedure to be followed by the authorities here. Officer Walker telegraphed the facts to his superintendent and was instructed to arrange for a post-mortem examination. This was performed by Dr. Watson and Dr. Middlemiss, and the cause of death was found to have been heart failure. Coroner Watson decided that an inquest was unnecessary and the remains were buried on Wednesday.

The only papers found on the deceased were a discharge from the war office, London, showing that he had served in the Queen's (B. A.) volunteers for two years, and a communication regarding it, dated to which he was entitled. This letter showed that his mother's address in 1908 was 36 Cambridge avenue, Kilburn, London, N. W.

He was interviewed by the executive of the Board of Trade, and urged to locate the bridge as nearly directly north of the proposed Battle river bridge.

While not committing himself until after he had consulted with his chief, Mr. Mackinnon, gave the Board to understand that he was favorable to their views.

Building Operations

Houses Going Up All Over the Town—More Will Be Started Soon.

Since the early spring there has been considerable activity in building circles here. Houses are springing up all over the town and will continue to do so until the weather gets so cold that it is impossible to work outside.

In addition to the houses now in the course of construction or projected that have been referred to by the Star, several others are under way. Robert Moffat is having a neat and roomy cottage erected on Fourth avenue.

John Hohlak has a cottage and a half house, of attractive design, nearly completed on Fifth avenue.

J. C. Forsyth has begun the erection of a cottage on Eighth avenue, just opposite E. D. Stimpson's.

E. D. Stimpson has begun the erection of two more cottages on Eighth avenue and expects to build a couple more yet on the same street.

A. E. Mills' house on Second avenue is nearing completion. This is a storey and a half house, with a full basement, and will have a verandah running all around it.

The Massey-Harris people have had a fine warehouse built near the G. T. P. depot, and a spur track connecting it with the main line has been put in. This warehouse is 30 x 60. A fine stock of the farm machinery manufactured by the Massey-Harris Co., will be kept here as well as a full line of repairs. The Wainwright Flour and Feed Co. represent this company here.

Battle River Bridge in Sight

Assistant Chief Engineer Here Last Few Days Making Surveys—Board of Trade Interviewed Him.

R. W. Macintyre, C. E., assistant chief engineer of the provincial department of public works, has been in the district the past few days making surveys, in connection with the proposed Battle river bridge.

He was interviewed by the executive of the Board of Trade, and urged to locate the bridge as nearly directly north of the proposed Battle river bridge.

While not committing himself until after he had consulted with his chief, Mr. Mackinnon, gave the Board to understand that he was favorable to their views.

Sunday Schools Picnicked

Church of England and Presbyterians Had Jolly Outing on Tuesday Last.

The Church of England and Presbyterian Sunday schools both held their annual picnics yesterday, the former going about four miles south of the town, and the latter to Dingman's Lake. The high wind rather marred the pleasure of the drive but both crowds report a pleasant time.

The program of sports run off by the Church of England Sunday school resulted as follows:

Boys under 12—Russell Forster, 1st; Harry King, 2nd; Murray Pawling, 3rd.

Big boys—F. Pawling, 1st; E. Everett, 2nd.

Little girls—Hilda Silverwood, 1st; Jessie Thompson, 2nd; Jessie Netterport, 3rd.

J. H. Gano, the local photographer, visited Buffalo Park this week, and secured a number of particularly fine views of the buffalo.

Ideal Weather Conditions Have Given Wainwright District Splendid Crops

While from different parts of the west there come reports of light crops caused by dry weather, the crops in the Wainwright district are splendid. The weather conditions have been almost ideal. There was an abundance of rain at the time when it was most needed and plenty of sunshine, and the crops came along in a way that has rejoiced the hearts of the farmers and caused a feeling of satisfaction and optimism in the town. The Board of Trade expect to send an exhibit to the Edmonton Fair that will open the eyes of the people from other parts of the province and from the other side of the line.

A sample of wheat that was sent in to the Board of Trade for exhibition in the showcase at the station here, measured four feet, six inches in height. This sample came from the Gilt Edge district.

A sample of barley from E. C. Buckley's farm, is three and a half feet high and another sample of wheat brought in by H. Y. Pawling and secured out north is four feet tall.

A sample of flax is two feet high. These samples are all at the Merchants' Bank, and were contributed in response to the call for exhibits for the Board of Trade's showcase.

More samples are required, however, before there will be enough to make a good exhibit, and the Board would be glad to receive further contributions.

The showcase has been completed, but before it can accomplish anything for the advantage of the district it must contain exhibits.

Coun. Fox To Retire

Sage of the Council Disguised With His Job—Intimates He Has Something Up His Sleeve.

"Yes, I have decided to retire at the end of my term," said Coun. Fox, to the Star yesterday, when asked if the rumor that he was tired of the civic struggle was correct.

He founded Guy's Hospital, and he has been attending to the time I have been there to live in comfort for the remainder of my days," humorously remarked the venerable statesman.

The impression gained by the Star from the interview with Coun. Fox was that he was the only simon-pure and undiluted patriot at the Council board.

Coun. Fox intimated that he would have some remarks to make at the next council meeting that would be calculated to make his colleagues sit up and take notice.

J. H. Woods, managing director of the Calgary Herald, Hon. W. A. Buchanan of the Lethbridge Herald, and Mr. Davidson, editor of the Calgary Albertan, passed through Wainwright yesterday on their way home from Winnipeg, where they had been attending a conference of publishers served by Guy's Hospital.

It is no secret that he will be here, yesterday, the battle of the ball game between the Hardisty team and the Wainwright team will be pulled off here this (Thursday) afternoon at four o'clock. As these teams are well matched, and as there is keen rivalry between them, the game cannot fail to be an interesting one.

HIRAM SPEAKS HIS MIND

Hiram Harderackable had a very worried look on his face as he visited the Star editor's sanctum this morning.

"What's the matter, Hiram?" asked the Star editor.

"Well, I'm plumb mad, that's what's the matter. The old woman and me had a scrap this mornin'."

"I tell you it jist makes me sick to see people buyin from that there Beatin' consarn, instead of kessin' their money at home and helpin' to build up their own town."

Coun. Fox has decided to take his hole.

The Laurier junketing party had a game of "ball" at Melville. At the other places they spell it "bawli."

A despatch says that a seven-year-old grandson of John D. Rockefeller speaks Latin. It must be the money that talks.

Assets, Worth $40,000,000, of the Pillsbury-Washburn Flour Co., are said to have disappeared. That's quite a batch of dough.

A man named Poole of Lacombe, has been slandering Southern Alberta. If the people down there ever get hold of him his name will be mud.

That was a rather cold wind yesterday, but never mind, there will be lots of hot air just as soon as the civic campaign gets well under way.

The Atlantic Fisheries Dispute at the Hague

Canadian markets. This offer was renewed in 1887, but the British Government refused to arbitrate, to fix the sum, or any, which the United States should pay for the period during which the fishing rights had been suspended. This fishing dispute was settled at Halifax, Nova Scotia, in 1897, when representatives of both Britain and the United States were present. Mr. Maurice Delfosse, Belgian Minister at Washington, was Newfoundland's $3,000,000, of which subsequently by arrangement between the United States and Britain was Newfoundland the remainder.

After the abrogation of this treaty by the United States in 1886, came the "Bona Fide Fishing" dispute, which was rejected by the United States Senate, though a modus vivendi was arranged in 1890, known as the "Bona Fide Convention" which gave rise to a tariff war between Canada and Newfoundland and eventually lay the basis for the 1904 Convention.

During all this period the modus vivendi of 1888 was continued by Newfoundland and the United States, and during a reciprocal arrangement, and Canada because she entertained strong hopes of "pilgrimages to fishing grounds" and the "Bona Fide Convention" was rejected by the United States Senate, and in 1898 an International High Commission, headed by Lord Selkirk, was set up to settle the fishing dispute. The representatives of Newfoundland, and headed on the American side by the Hon. J. B. Clark, were left with the problem at Quebec and at Washington but with no result. Not until 1904, when the United States launched a campaign against the Newfoundland Convention, having by this time realized that the fishing dispute was a serious matter for herself was involved, did the meanwhile, the preparation of the respective briefs for the appeal was a matter of some controversy. The eminent jurists who have been selected to pronounce upon the issues in dispute.

Meanwhile, Sir Edward Morris, who had been Sir Richard Stoddart's lieutenant in the House of Commons, and whose cabinet, had broken from him, and having assumed the leadership of the opposition party in Newfoundland, decisively defeated the Board administration. The second election, a by-election which occurred—the first in November, 1908, when each side carried eight seats, and the second in May, 1909, when Morris carried twenty-six and the Conservatives twenty-four. The Newfoundland case thus fell to Sir Edward Morris.

It is almost certain that he will remain another year.

Of Earl Grey's popularity in the Dominion there can be no doubt. Canadian readers delighted in the wit and vivacity of Lord Dufferin, and value the steadfastness of Lord Normanton. They admired the grand seigneur in Lord Lansdowne and the sportsman in Lord Minto. Earl Grey deserves his popularity for his combination of qualities and circumstances.

In the first place, he is one of those happy mortals who make friends without an effort and keep them by the attraction of temperment. It is not given to everyone to be as familiar to all as with citizens and the plain man. Lord Dufferin could be a plain man

FROM time to time various colonies of Jews have actually returned to the Holy Land. There are records of Jewish settlements there as early as 1170, and in the sixteenth century the city of Tiberias was the center of Jewish reestablishment. But it was not until comparatively modern times that the founding of regular colonies began. In 1878 the ideas of Lawrence Oliphant and the Earl of Shaftesbury took hold, and in the purchase of 700 acres of land by the Jews of Palestine, and the foundation of the colony of Peta Tikvah. After the Russian persecution of 1881 large numbers of Jews emigrated and, in the purchase of 500 acres, founded 5,000 Jewish colonists in Palestine.

The first object on which the flicker's yellow bill fell was the body of a miser who had been dug a deep cellar, into which he heaped his riches. The only means of access to this cellar was a trap-door, which was reached by a ladder. The door was fitted with a spring lock, which was in constant operation and would fasten itself.

One day the miser disappeared. The house was searched, the woods were explored, the ponds drained, but Rescué was not to be found. In the end, however, the miser's house, which he had lived in for many years, was sold, and a body of workmen were employed to remodel it. They discovered the door of the secret treasure-chamber, broke into the passageway and descended into the cellar.

The first object on which the flicker's yellow bill fell was the body of a

After all, whatever disposition the overthriftiness one may make of his accumulation of wealth has claimed him, there is something regretful in what he has gained his wealth. "The unnumbered heaps of miser's treasures" are not a pleasant matter for contemplation, and we are glad that the miser is forced to relinquish his gold, his hoardings may be washed free from taint in charity's stream.

A WISE MOVE

The Wainwright Board of Trade has made a wise move in establishing relations with the publicity agents of the province of Alberta. These heralds of the progress and prosperity of this province are doing a remarkable work and already this season have succeeded in bringing a large number of settlers into the province. Wainwright has unfortunately not secured any of those who have come in so far, but there is no reason why a large number should not come to this district in the future. These agents are located at Montreal, Toronto, Michigan, and in the Dakotas, and their number, the Star understands, will be increased in the near future. They will be able to make a particularly strong case for the Wainwright district, when supplied with the facts. This year our crops are unusually good, which it is to be regretted cannot be said for the whole province. The conditions in the southern part of the province are of course, abnormal, and may not occur again for years, but we do not even have to make that explanation. Magnificent crops are the rule throughout this district, and the Board of Trade with the alertness that characterizes that organization have wisely decided to take full advantage of the happy condition of things and make our fortunate situation known to the world.

The Edmonton Journal published the following interview with Mr. Hotchkiss, publicity commissioner for Alberta, in a recent issue, and it will doubtless be read with interest here: "That there are thousands of industrious farmers in Ontario who cannot afford to buy farms of their own in the east, who are anxious to give up the old farm life in Ontario and move out to the broad acres of the west, but who know absolutely nothing of C. S. Hotchkiss, publicity commissioner for the provincial government, who has just returned from a trip of inspection of the various publicity agencies maintained by the government throughout the west."

"Ontario is the field from which Alberta should draw its thousands of settlers for the next few years to come and not the Western States, according to Mr. Hotchkiss. During his trip, which took him through some of the oldest farming districts in Ontario, Mr. Hotchkiss was at once impressed with the utter lack of knowledge of the west prevalent among the farmers of the east, and with the desire of these farmers to go west, and who would do so, but for the fact that they are restrained through the one common impression that the west is a country of cold winters and dry summers, a country where the farmer has to endure life rather than enjoy it, where he takes a long chance of becoming prosperous."

"To illustrate the condition of affairs in the eastern province, Mr. Hotchkiss told the Journal this morning of his experience in meeting one farmer in Ontario. This man, said the publicity commissioner, has been renting a farm for a long time. He will never be in a position to buy the farm and he is anxious to move out west. He has a herd of stock, and he has $2,000 saved up. He wanted to know all about the west. He had just one impression of this country, that it was all one big territory, and did not even know that there were provinces out here. He thought there were hardships out here, but he said he guessed he was able to endure them if others had. He could not realize that the climate here was much more enjoyable than in Ontario. He did not know that homesteads were available, and he thought he would have to buy all his land."

"Now there are thousands of potential settlers of just that sort in Ontario. All they need is to be told the advantages of the west. We don't need to go to the States for our settlers. They are right in Ontario, and they are of the best kind, because they are of the class that will win out in the west and that is the kind we want. There are hundreds of them that have been renting farms, but have a little money saved up, and they would be a big asset to a province like this."

"The field for our publicity work in Ontario is enormous. I had no realization of it until I went east. I visited Hamilton, Toronto, Brantford and other points, as well as some of the big centres in the States."

"Then there are hundreds of young men in the centres of the States, like Detroit, who have been raised on a farm who have saved up a little money, and who are anxious to come west. I visited some of the factories in Detroit, and found hundreds in this condition. They have little homes and small salaries, but have no hopes of making anything better in their present positions. These people are so enthusiastic about the west that they would talk to me by the hour just to get information."

"We have started a work of publicity in these fields that should not be stopped. Already our agents have done a big work, but there is still an enormous work to do. Every settler that comes to the province with a carload of stock and a little money is an asset, and there would be a train load every month if we had enough men and money to work with."

"But there will be thousands of settlers coming to Alberta within the next few years. Fifty thousand would come every year from Ontario alone if we could reach them. There is going to be a big movement this year, and much of it will come from the States. Milwaukee and Michigan will send big delegations. Men of capital are coming too. I met with several capitalists who are coming out here to invest."

"As far as our agencies are concerned, they are doing a tremendous work. Our offices in Winnipeg are right on the main street, and we are doing a rushing business. The offices are handsome and the exhibit maintained there is one of the best we have."

"Our offices in Toronto are not big enough. Mr. Brown has done wonders there with the means at his disposal. His offices are crowded from morning till night. Our agent in Montreal is one of the best men we have. He meets every boat and train and has been instrumental in securing a large number of settlers for the province."

"I am not much afraid that there will be legislation in the States to restrain immigration to Canada. They realize over there that we have them beaten in the way of farm lands, and that they can't stop the farmers from coming over here. In St. Paul the Northern Pacific railway has handsome immigration offices at the union depot, maintained at an enormous expense, but during the three visits I paid to the offices there was not a prospective settler there. At the Canadian office farther up the street there were many settlers looking for information about Western Canada."

"According to Mr. Hotchkiss his department will make an effort to place an exhibit in all the prominent state fairs across the line this year. He believes that this is one of the best means of advertising. He is also of the opinion that there should be an office maintained by the province in St. Paul."

NEWSPAPER CABINET

It is reported that John W. Dufos, editor of the Manitoba Free Press, is to enter the federal cabinet. If this is correct, Sir Wilfrid is certainly showing his appreciation of the value of newspaper men as advisers. Already his cabinet is made up almost wholly of newspaper men. Hon. W. S. Fielding was an active newspaper man for many years, going up from the ranks. Hon. Frank Oliver, as is well known in the west, is a newspaper man. Hon. George Graham, for a good many years was the publisher of a country paper in Ontario. Hon. Mr. Templeman is a newspaper man and still owns a paper. Hon. R. Lemieux was a newspaper reporter before he became a lawyer, and Sir Wilfrid himself edited a little sheet in Quebec long ago. To the presence of such a large proportion of newspaper men in the cabinet may be attributed the present prosperity of Canada. Where there are newspaper men prosperity will always be found.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier promises the early construction of the Hudson Bay railway. This reminds us that during the campaign of 1908, he promised that if returned to power, the construction of a railroad to the Hudson Bay would be "immediately begun." The west would like to see some real progress made with this project. They are getting tired of glittering promises.

WASHBURN AND LOGAN GET HONORS

W. E. Washburn captured the gold button of the Gun Club's shoot last Friday evening, with the score of 22. His closest competitor for the honor was E. C. Buckley, who broke 21 birds. E. D. Stimpson who broke 20, at the end of the third frame looked like a winner, having broken 14 out of 15, but he fell down after that. The silver button was won by E. C. Logan, who broke 14.

Thos. Brodie, the trap shooting champion of Manitoba, was a guest of the club and took part in the shoot, but he only broke 14 birds.

The scores in detail were as follows:

BASEBALL

Medicine Hat's franchise in the Western Canada baseball league, has been transferred to Saskatoon. The people of Medicine Hat did not support their team very well.

With Dretcho, late of the Edmonton Western League team in the box, Hardisty recently won a game from the Unity team. Unity has challenged the Hardisty team to play a return game for $500 a side.

HAROLD H'S RECORD STANDS

Winnipeg, July 21.—Harold H's record of 2.07 still stands as the mile record for half-mile tracks in Canada, for the famous Broncho failed yesterday in its attempt to break the mark. While the Broncho failed, it yet made a very creditable performance.

Charles Dean, the well-known driver, was on hand to drive the Broncho and under his skillful guidance the game little mare was handled in the best possible manner, but a heavy wind down the stretch and a track that was cut up and soft in spots prevented record time from being made.

The Broncho went away strong and covered the first half in 1:04. Mackenzie's Ketchum paced the mare in its attempt on the record.

AN OPPONENT FOR JOHNSON

Chicago, July 20.—According to Tom Ryan, ex-middleweight champion of the world, the man who will prove to be the best available opponent for Jack Johnson at the end of the year, is Con. O'Kelly, the Irish wrestler, who is now in this country. Ryan showed Jim Jeffries the boxing that Jeff forgot all about on July 4, and Ryan is at present teaching O'Kelly how to box.

The Irish giant is only 22 years of age, and stands six feet six inches in height. His physique is in proportion to his height, and he is ambitious to become the heavy weight champion of the world.

According to Ryan, the Celt is a very apt pupil and has remarkable speed for a big man.

When Ryan is satisfied that O'Kelly has progressed sufficiently in the boxing line, he intends to send him against some first-class heavy weight.

Among the wrestlers who had ambitions to star as possible heavy weight boxing champions, Frank Gotch, Dr. Ben Roller and Hackenschmidt, may be mentioned. Tommy Ryan may possibly be boosting for and

LOCAL NEWS

If you have a house to rent, a Star want ad. will get you a tenant.

Mrs. McDonald, of the Depot Cafe, was a passenger to Edmonton on Monday.

M. L. Forster and his father-in-law, Mr. Doersam, have returned to town after a few days spent at Banff.

Mrs. L. P. Hussey arrived home on Thursday last from a two weeks' trip to Portage la Prairie and Winnipeg.

Fred Halterman and his bride have leased the Richardson cottage on Third avenue, and will move in about the first of August.

The Misses Dora and Ernestine Berube, of Edmonton, who have been visiting their brother and Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Beaudry for three weeks, returned home on Monday.

A. C. Fraser, manager of the Merchants' Bank, at Edmonton, was in town last week inspecting the local branch. He was accompanied to Edmonton on Friday by H. G. Morrison, manager here.

W. E. Mills, of the firm of Washburn & Mills, left on Tuesday afternoon last on a vacation trip to his old home at South Falls. He will also visit Ottawa and Montreal, and expects to be absent for about a month.

The Wainwright Band will receive a couple of valuable acccessions to their ranks this week. Two men are coming from Biggar, having been promised employment at their trade which is carpentering. The Band has been practising regularly and is making good progress.

Prof. Orton, who holds the chair of Ceramics in the Ohio university, will come to Edmonton about the first of August to make an examination of the clay deposits of the Edmonton district and it is probable that the Board of Trade of Wainwright will ask him to make a report on the clays of this district.

COMMON SENSE IN SHOES

There is no place for fashionable cruelties in good foot-wear.

Caprice of fashion is not the basis for shoes.

A good shoe calls for reason and common sense in the maker as well as the wearer.

A good shoe is stylish without being freakish. It has character just as much as a gown from Worth or a hat from Virot.

While "INVICTUS SHOES" have exclusive features and details as superior foot-wear, they never clash with the dictates of good common sense.
